

U. S. Giving in to Red Plan for UN Chief

By TOM HOGE
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States today was reported to have agreed in the main to a Soviet plan for picking a temporary U. N. secretary-general. Support was building up for U. Thant of Burma to take over the vital executive position.

The U. S. stand increased hopes that a way will be found to break the U. S.-Soviet deadlock with its threat of paralysis for the administrative arm of the world organization.

Informed diplomats said the United States agreed with reservations to Soviet insistence that the Security Council nominate the successor to the late Dag Hammarskjöld.

The reservations are that the United States and the Soviet Union first agree on the candidate and on his powers, informants said.

The U. S. stand was conveyed to the Soviet delegation by other envoys. There was no immediate Soviet reaction.

To avert the Soviet veto of a secretary-general candidate in the Security Council, the United States had proposed that the veto-free, 100-nation General Assembly name a temporary successor.

The switch in American tactics came after the Soviets in turn had softened their position.

The Soviets first put up their so-called trioka plan for a three-man secretariat — Communist, Western and neutral. Each would have a veto.

This week they announced that provided he was nominated by the Security Council, they would agree to selection of a temporary secretary-general with three advisers, none with a veto.

Delegates said the trend toward U. Thant reflected determination of the powerful 47-nation Asian-African bloc to see that one of their group gets the post of prestige and authority.

Sentiment now generally favors U. Thant over the assembly president, Mongi Slim of Tunisia, and Frederick II. Boland of Ireland, who presided over the assembly last year, informed sources said.

Concrete Will Be Used to Fill Cave

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Army Engineers have decided to fill a cavern uncovered by a bulldozer at the Beaver Dam site near Rogers with concrete as a precautionary measure.

W. W. Ralph, chief of the Engineers' construction division, said Wednesday the cavern had been located and its presence would have no effect on stability of the dam.

The concrete, Ralph said, will be poured to insure against seepage of water from the reservoir. He estimated cost of the fill at $6,000 to $7,000.

The cave averages about three feet wide, six feet high and 300 feet long. It runs in a hillside upstream from the actual dam location but Engineers fear it may have fingers which run under the dam.

Bulletin

DALLAS (AP) — An aide to Sam Rayburn said today a biopsy disclosed the presence of an incurable cancer.

He said surgery would not be resorted to "because there is nothing they can do. It is all over him."

Dr. Robert F. Short, who conducted the biopsy this morning at Baylor Hospital, said a formal bulletin would be issued later in the day.

Girl Relates Affair With Diplomat

WASHINGTON (AP) — A young Polish woman testified today a former American diplomat told her he was being blackmailed by Polish secret police who wanted him to hand over "the cipher and some kind of plan he was getting from Washington."

The witness, Ursula Dikcher, 22, said the blackmail attempt took place after Polish police caught her undressed in bed with Irvin C. Scarbeck. Scarbeck at that time was second secretary in the American Embassy in Warsaw.

Scarbeck, 41 and married, is on trial in federal court on a charge of turning over four secret diplomatic papers to the Polish Red agents.

Miss Dikcher also said Scarbeck told her the secret police had offered him money, "20,000 zlotys or so, but I told him myself not to accept any money from them."

She said of the blackmail attempt, "If they received anything they were trifles."

Last April, Scarbeck engineered the girl's escape from Poland by having a West German friend send her a fake telegram that her nonexistent brother was dying in a Frankfurt hospital. With this, she was able to get a visa from Polish authorities.

The German, Frankfurt police official Friedrich Cordes, told how Scarbeck arranged the hoax telegram and how he joined Miss Dikcher in Frankfurt. Cordes said she lived with Scarbeck in his apartment there and that Scarbeck paid for a doctor to treat a serious illness she had. Scarbeck later returned to the United States and was arrested here June 13.

Scarbeck's wife, Karen, 37, by whom he has three children, sat through Miss Dikcher's testimony without visible emotion. She has said she's sticking by her husband.

During Cordes' testimony, Mrs. Scarbeck was allowed to sit at the defense table to help with the interpreting job. She is German-born and met Scarbeck while he was serving in Germany. They exchanged smiles and a few words as she joined him at the table.

Miss Dikcher said when the police agents burst in on her and Scarbeck, they called her a prostitute and hauled her off to a police station. There they suggested, in the interpreter's words, that "as you are acquainted with an American who happens to be a diplomat, could you cooperate with us?"

The nature of the cooperation was not immediately brought out.

During September the local office placed 99 people in full time and part time jobs, 824 unemployed persons were placed in suitable jobs during the fiscal year ending June 30, Jones said.

The ESD manager urged employers to remember to "Hire Now" — When They Work You Profit — and employment would continue to rise in Hope with a corresponding drop in the number of people out of work.

The annual "Hire The Physically Handicapped Program" is also in progress during the period of Oct. 1-7.

Harrison Okays Flood Plan

HARRISON, Ark. (AP) — A flood-conscious Harrison City Council approved Wednesday night a $10.5 million flood control plan to curb Crooked Creek which devastated the city last May.

The Corps of Engineers plan would provide a single large dam upstream from the city and form a 1,400-acre lake from which the city would receive its water supply.

Following the May 7 flood, Congress instructed the engineers to draw up plans for controlling the creek.

An alternate plan by the Soil Conservation Service called for construction of 20 small dams on Crooked Creek and Dry Jordan Creek.

Officer Transferred

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Wesley T. Whaley, assigned to the Little Rock office of the FBI the past two years, has been transferred to Seattle, Wash., as assistant special agent in charge. Whaley's transfer is expected to take effect next month.

A two pronged attack on unemployment offices of the Employment Security Division has been launched according to James Bland, Administrator of the ESD.

Teddy Jones, Hope local office manager, said that job solicitation and applicant placement are the two projects being pushed.

ESD offices are urging all employers to list their job openings with the State Employment Service. The Hope office is stressing the securing of all local employer job orders during the period Oct. 2 to Oct. 6.

Job applicants are urged to file work applications and register with the ESD as soon as possible. "We need everything from cotton pickers to stenographers, bookkeepers and technicians," Jones said.

The promotional drive for "job orders" and qualified applicants is a continuation of the "Hire Now" campaign instituted by President Kennedy in his economic message to the nation.

"Hire Now" — When they work you profit, is the national slogan to employers for full employment.

Mr. Jones indicated that total employment for Hempstead and Hope is at the highest figure for the last three years. As of Aug. 1, 1961 total employment, including both agricultural and non-agricultural, for the county was 7,637.

Employment in the four county ESD office area shows:

Hempstead	7037
Nevada	3134
Lafayette	4168
Howard	4087

The breakdown for Hope and Hempstead County lists 2500 in agricultural employment with 725 of this number being seasonal workers.

Hempstead County non agricultural employment totals 4537. Of this number 2595 are in employment covered by the ESD law, 1240 are in manufacturing employment by 40 manufacturing and industrial firms while 1262 are employed by 291 non manufacturing firms.

Railroads, professional, school and government agencies account for 635 additional workers, while 1057 persons are engaged in private household, self employment and other unpaid family workers.

Locally unemployment is at the lowest figure in the last 12 months. During September 250 out of work claimants drew unemployment insurance in the four counties according to local office ESD figures.

Mr. Jones said that for week ending Sept. 30 only about 100 unemployment claims were filed in the district with about half of these from Hope and Hempstead County.

During September the local office placed 99 people in full time and part time jobs, 824 unemployed persons were placed in suitable jobs during the fiscal year ending June 30, Jones said.

The ESD manager urged employers to remember to "Hire Now" — When They Work You Profit — and employment would continue to rise in Hope with a corresponding drop in the number of people out of work.

The annual "Hire The Physically Handicapped Program" is also in progress during the period of Oct. 1-7.

Search for Plane, Two Missing Men

HOPE, Ark. — An air search for two Iowa men missing since Sunday in a four-passenger plane bound for Texas continued today in several states.

About 200 volunteer and Civil Air Patrol planes, including Arkansas and Hot Springs CAP squadrons, have joined in the search which has covered Arkansas, Iowa, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Missouri and Louisiana.

The two men were identified as Pilot John Carder, Red Oak, and his passenger, Chel Yeager of Emerson, Iowa. They left Iowa Sunday bound for Jasper, Tex., and have failed to show up.

LI. Calvin Helton, commander of the Spu CAP unit, searched the Pleasant Hill, Lake Ouchita and Glenwood areas yesterday after John Meredith, a nine-year-old boy, reported seeing the plane in trouble Sunday evening in the area located seven to 18 miles west of Hot Springs.

The search failed to turn up the plane and has been discontinued here. Units in Kansas, Iowa, Missouri were also called off after it was learned the plane had reached Fayetteville on the flight to Jasper.

Officials expressed the belief today that the plane which the boy said he sighted apparently continued on its way and is not believed to be the missing craft.

Horseshoers Organize a Union

HOPE, Ark. — Men who shoe horses may find their trade in decreasing demand, but they've kept up with the times in one respect — they have a union.

It's the Horseshoers Union. It's affiliated with the AFL-CIO and its headquarters are listed as being in Hot Springs. However, the union has no office here as far as could be learned.

The United States Labor Department discovered the union when it was compiling reports filed under the 1959 labor-management reporting and disclosure act.

Reports came in first from locals in Texas and Louisiana, then, sure enough, one was filed by the national headquarters.

The Labor Department said the reports did not show how many men were engaged in horseshoeing. It surmised most of them work around race tracks and rodeos.

The surmise appeared correct when George Miller, president of the union, couldn't be located at Hot Springs. He's traveling from track to track around the country.

Horseshoeing techniques have changed in the age of the automobile, the Labor Department said. The old-time blacksmith had a shop and the horses came to him. Now most horseshoers work out of a fully equipped truck which takes them to the horse.

Saratoga Is Proposing 10 Mill Tax Hike

A 10 mill tax increase has been proposed by the Board of Directors of the Saratoga School District in its proposed 1962-63 budget. The budget calls for an increase from 30 to 40 mills.

The additional millage is for the purpose of floating a $150,000 bond issue which will run about 25 years. This money will be used to erect and equip new school buildings and additions and improvements to additional buildings.

Thus Saratoga is the second district in this area to ask for an increase in millage increase. Hope District 1-A proposes a 5-mill increase to 40 mills.

The matter will go to the voters of each district on December 5.

Favors No Control Over Poultry

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. Dale Alford, D-Ark., said today he does not favor establishment of federal controls on poultry production.

"Personally I hope controls will not be necessary and the market will readjust itself according to the law of supply and demand," Alford said.

The congressman acted as chairman of a House Small Business subcommittee which held a hearing in Neosho, Mo., on problems of the poultry industry.

Price of broilers and fryers has dropped as low as 10 cents a pound this year. Growers estimate it costs 14 cent to produce a pound of chicken.

Alford said the Agriculture Department favors production controls in such cases, but he said few individuals are for controls. Poultry industry leaders, he said, believe the situation can be cleared up by diversification and self-policing of the industry.

Communist Police Guns Adding to Tension in Berlin

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States called on the Soviets today to avoid shooting incidents on the East-West Berlin border, "which could seriously jeopardize peace and the public order in Berlin."

The call was in a State Department statement issued in the wake of an outbreak of shooting incidents involving West and East German police.

The U. S. view was that the West Berlin police acted in self-defense Wednesday in firing back as the Communists shot at refugees fleeing the Soviet sector of the divided city.

Other U. S. authorities took the view that the shootings, while deplorable, need not, in themselves, be the spark that would set off a general conflagration. They said deliberate intent would be the more likely cause of any war, and neither side has shown intent to start a war.

However, it was stated also that the shooting heightens tension. President Kennedy is to receive Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko here Friday for a final U. S.-Soviet talk on the German question before Gromyko returns to the Soviet Union for an extended period.

Kennedy was expected to re-stress Western determination not to yield Berlin rights and to search further for the possibilities of an East-West negotiation.

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD
BERLIN (AP) — Communist police fired across Berlin's brick curtain today, the second such incident in less than 24 hours, adding to the trigger tension of this divided city.

West Berlin police said Communist police threw rocks across the wall at Bernauerstrasse and a Red police officer fired a single shot from his submachine gun at a West Berlin policeman. No one was hurt.

West and East Berlin police traded fire Wednesday night across the border at Bernauerstrasse and an East German policeman was wounded.

The first incident occurred during a chase of two East German refugees across border rooftops. One refugee, crying "freedom," plunged to his death when he jumped five stories and missed a West Berlin fireman's net. The other refugee was captured by the East Germans and taken away.

As a result of the two incidents, Mayor Willy Brandt disclosed he was discussing with the Western powers the reinforcement of West Berlin police to make the borders secure. The shooting of the East German policeman was expected to raise a diplomatic storm.

West Berlin police gave this account of today's incident: Vopos, Communist police, threw rocks across the wall into West Berlin. One rock smashed the windshield of a truck on the roadway. A police patrol car was called, and an officer went up to the wall and called out to the Vopos to stop throwing rocks.

A Vopo officer approached the wall, aimed his submachine gun and shouted, "Go back." Then the Vopo fired at the police officer. The bullet missed, and police on both sides drew back.

The two shootings were the most serious since the Communists began erecting their wall of barbed wire and concrete blocks across the heart of Berlin on Aug. 13.

Failure to settle local problems resulted in an outbreak of strikes that crippled General Motors Corp. for two weeks last month before a final settlement was reached with the UAW.

Ford and the UAW already have agreed on a money package paralleling the GM settlement that gives UAW members an increase of more than 12 cents an hour in take-home pay.

Still to be settled at the national level are the union's non-economic demands. These include production standards, grievance procedure, skilled trades problems and sub-contracting of work the union insists should be done by its members.

Both Reuther and Denise are striving for an early settlement—possibly by Saturday or Sunday.

Jay's Hurling Evens Series With Yankees

NEW YORK (AP) — Cincinnati's ailing Joey Jay stopped New York with a four-hitter and his teammates took advantage of miscues to beat the Yankees 6-2 and tie the 1961 World Series at 1-1 today.

Back-to-back singles by Elton Chinn and Eddie Kasko, and catcher Elston Howard's passed ball manufactured what proved to be the winning run in the fifth inning. The third game is set for Saturday at Cincinnati.

U. S. Enters Ford Strike Controversy

DETROIT (AP) — Federal mediators, acting as observers, today joined Ford Motor Co. and United Auto Workers Union negotiations, searching for a settlement of a strike that has shut down Ford operations.

There was no immediate indication of direct government intervention in the negotiations.

James MacPherson, regional director, and David Tamm, of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, arrived at the bargaining scene. Their presence was considered an indication of the government's concern over the strike and its possible effect on the nation's economy.

Ford and UAW negotiators meanwhile maintained a tight telephone check with local unions in a concerted effort to get the company back into car production by the first of next week.

Their top negotiators decided Wednesday the best way to end the strike that shut down Ford plants from coast to coast Tuesday was to give priority to effecting settlements on working conditions at individual plants.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther and Ford's vice president for labor relations, Malcolm L. Denise, postponed further discussions on a national contract on working conditions until 2 p.m. Friday.

Denise agreed with Reuther's suggestion the time could be spent more profitably by the union and the company setting up direct phone contacts with the plants to clear away the roadblock of local disputes.

About half of the union's 85 bargaining units have completed settlements with plant managers on problems as washup time, parking lot and cafeteria facilities, protective clothing, overtime rotation, choice of hours and seniority.

Failure to settle local problems resulted in an outbreak of strikes that crippled General Motors Corp. for two weeks last month before a final settlement was reached with the UAW.

Ford and the UAW already have agreed on a money package paralleling the GM settlement that gives UAW members an increase of more than 12 cents an hour in take-home pay.

World Series Is Really Big Show

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Television's really big show during the next few days is that multipart annual spectacular, the World Series.

and NBC has it.

Almost everything else is anticlimactic, but there are still a number of good shows starting.

"Straightaway," an ABC half-hour action-adventure series about a pair of sports car enthusiasts, begins tonight (7:30-8),

and so does CBS' "The Hathaways,"

(8-8:30), a series starring the Marquis de Sade and human comedies.

ans: Peggy Cass and Jack Weston.

NBC's Dinah Shore returns (10-11) in a new time slot.

A new children's show, "12-3-Go," starts on NBC Sunday (6:30-7 p.m.), with Jack Lescault as host, and Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas as guest. The network's "Show of the Week,"

(10-11) is a tribute to the U.S.O.

Monday night's big splash is

CBS' "The Sound of the Sixties,"

a combination of documentary and variety with Art Carney, Vic

Damone and John Charles Daly.

ABC's "Premiere" anthology series, with Fred Astaire as host, starts Tuesday (10-11 p.m.) with a drama, "People Need People," starring Lee Marvin, Arthur Kennedy and James Gregory.

"The Bob Newhart Show," starts

Wednesday night (10-10:30) on

NBC, followed by "David Brin-kley's Journal," (10:30-11) which will give feature treatment to news stories.

"Marge," an ABC situation

comedy about a young girl in the 1920s, starts Thursday (9:30-10)

followed by the season premiere of "The Untouchables" in a new

time slot. "CBS Reports" (10-11)

begins a series of conversations in which Dwight D. Eisenhower discusses the office of the president of the United States.

Child 7, Found Brutally Slain

ELMHURST, Ill. (AP)—A seven-year-old girl, who came here from Arkansas with her parents three years ago, was slain Wednesday night in a field a few blocks from her home.

Police questioned two neighborhood youth today after a bound-up to their home twice from the weed field where the body was found.

The victim, Yvonne Elliott, a blue-eyed blonde child, disappeared

after her father sent her to a store on her bicycle. She was found a few hours later, naked, bound and gagged.

The family formerly lived at Clinton, Ark.

Deputies said the two juveniles,

14 and 15, denied knowledge of the girl's death. The youngsters were nervous and shaking during the questioning, and lie detector results were inconclusive.

The child's nude body, with her hands tied behind her back with a soiled rag and with another rag

stuffed in her mouth, was found by her father, Edward Elliott, 27, and a machine setter. The slayer had taken the girl's long-sleeved red shirt and knotted it tightly around her throat.

Elliott had sent Yvonne to a store five blocks from their home in this Chicago suburb to get him

some cigarettes.

"It was still light outside, I thought nothing of it. My God, this is awful," he said.

When Yvonne had not returned from the store an hour after she

he walked down the street and found her bicycle alongside a field

Rayburn's Test Results Due Today

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Results

of three days of intensive medical tests may disclose today the gravity of an illness that has convinced Speaker of the House Sam

Rayburn to a hospital since last Monday.

Tests were to continue today,

but one of a team of physicians conducting them said "something definite" may be known later in the day. Whether surgery would be necessary depended on the final analysis.

The condition of the 79-year-old

Texas Democrat has been listed as "serious" since he entered

Baylor Hospital. The latest medical bulletin reported "no significant change in his general condition" and "no definite conclusion" as to his exact condition.

late in August for his home in Bonham he was suffering from what was publicly described as humbago.

"It's much more serious than that," one of his doctors said after a preliminary examination at Baylor.

Rayburn's spirits seemed to take a lift late Wednesday. He took a visitor and griped about the "barking and prodding" tests.

He obviously was in pain

and seemed more like an active little boy suddenly bedridden by something he couldn't understand.

"Mr. Democrat" of American politics has lost considerable weight and from a layman's viewpoint it would take a lot of recovering for him to regain strength enough to return to Washington when Congress reconvenes next Jan. 10.

144 Demonstrators Jailed in Miss.

MCCOMB, Miss. (AP)—A civil rights demonstration on the City

Hall steps resulted in the mass arrest of 144 Negro pupils and one white man.

The group — junior high and high school pupils — was protesting the expulsion from school of four Negroes Wednesday arrested

earlier in a chain store sit-in.

Police said several white men

punched the lone white demonstrator before police rescued him.

He was jailed "for his own protection," police said.

Demonstrators marched with signs through the streets of this southwest Mississippi town and made speeches outside the City

Hall.

Police said they booked all of them on breach of peace charges.

The Congress of Racial Equality at Jackson identified the white man as Bob Zellner, 22, of Atlanta. CORE said he is a field worker for the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

Police Chief George Guy said

deputies could arrest them.

Paragould Vote Suit Continues

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP)—

Trial of a suit brought by two

city officials apparently defeated

in last summer's Democratic primary will resume before Circuit

Judge Edward Maddox Friday.

Maddox ordered the trial continued Wednesday after indicating a decision could not be reached on the basis of arguments and testimony up until then.

The suit was brought by former

Mayor Charlie Wood and former

Alderman Hansel Harris against

J. T. Brown and George Textor.

Returns certified by the Greene

County Democratic Central Committee showed Brown defeated

Wood for the mayor's post by 10

votes and Textor beat Harris by one vote for the alderman's position.

The committee denied a request for a recount and Wood and Harris asked the court to order a recount and certify them as the winners.

Brown and Textor filed cross-complaints.

DOROTHY DIX

Girl's Home-Wrecking Worries Friend

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE
Dear Helen: I have a friend who needs advice but won't take mine. She's romancing with a man twice her age. The tactics she uses are juvenile. Every night she drives past his home. The signal is four loud honks on the car horn.
If the wife is away she takes over. Daytime she sends into town for the husband. He hangs an "out-of-town" delivery sign on the office door and busies off for an hour's dilly-dallying with Silly.
He says he is financing her education. She hopes to become a teacher. By coincidence, his wife is a teacher about to retire. She's had a nervous breakdown as a result of his philandering. She too is a friend of mine. If men like to do the chasing, this husband seems an exception to the rule. His only weakness is susceptibility to flattery. But that is understandable for the girl is young, and the man 55. Can you help straighten out this mess? — Worried.
Dear Worried: Where do you come in the picture other than as a friend? I ask that question for your own good. Generally speaking busy-bodies court trouble. My advice is, stay on your own side of the fence unless invited into the fray. In the end, the wife obviously the person you most want to help, may turn on you.
Should your young friend voluntarily seek your advice, tell her to snap out of this Midsummer Night's Dream, if she values her future. To deliberately wreck her life at this early stage is stupid.

Dear Helen: This is confusion among cousins. I am 15. My 16-year-old cousin has a cousin — a good looking lad with a '53 blue convertible. This cousin and I are like sisters. The other night at her grandma's home, her handsome cousin asked me to dance. I turned him down because I shake all over if he comes near me. I'm like the girl in England who breaks out in a rash at sight of a boy. Yet I like the cousin of my cousin very much and want to date him. Can you help me? — Babs.
Dear Babs: Some youngsters, of which you're evidently one, are hard hit by the physical transition from childhood to womanhood. Say to yourself that "this too will pass," for it will.
Meanwhile try to take adolescence in your stride, knowing that the time will come when you can look back and laugh at the fitters you had at sight of your cousin's handsome cousin. Once you successfully master your shyness he may even laugh with you.

Send your problems to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of the newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Send for "How To Get Along With An Adolescent."

5 Refugees Rescued by Helicopter

BERLIN (AP)—Five East German refugees were rescued by a U.S. Army helicopter from the Steinstuecken enclave today.
The U.S. Berlin command reported:
"During a routine visit, a Berlin command helicopter lifted five individuals from Steinstuecken to another part of the American sector of West Berlin today."
Last week two American helicopters brought seven refugees out of the little community, which is divided from the rest of Berlin by a mile of Communist territory. The East German Foreign Ministry accused the Americans of violating the air space of East Germany.
Earlier, a group of 55 East German villagers from Boeschedendorf, on the East-West German border, roped themselves together so no one would get lost and groped their way through the darkness to West Germany and were given asylum.

In Berlin, two East German policemen scooted through the barbed wire to West Berlin; a married couple leaped to the West from the second floor of their East Berlin apartment house and a young East Berliner played a truck right through a concrete wall at the border to escape.

AIDC Publishes New Directory
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Industrial Development Commission has published a new directory of Arkansas industries which is being sent to industrial prospects throughout the nation.
The directory lists Arkansas manufacturers, tells what they make and where they are located. AIDC executive director William P. Rock said it is more detailed than any listing previously attempted.
According to the directory there are about 3,200 manufacturing firms in Arkansas employing 99,000 workers.
AIDC Chairman Winthrop Rockefeller commented that "despite 50,000 new industrial jobs which have been announced in Arkansas since 1955, there will remain for years a pressing need for more and more jobs in industry," and added that the new directory was one of the ways in which the commission was trying to help meet this need.

Acres Request Turned Down
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Dermott farmer James Weir's request for an increase in his 10-acre allotment has been rejected by the state Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.
Weir asked authority to plant as much rice as he pleases. He planted 246 acres this year and risks a $25,000 penalty for overplanting.
Overplanting penalties are not new to Weir, however. He paid $3,900 for overplanting his 1958 crop and the government is attempting to collect a $17,400 penalty for his 1959 crop. He faces a $10,000 penalty on his 1960 crop, which still is in storage.
The committee heard Weir case several months ago at Lake Village. It ruled Weir's 10-acre allotment was properly determined in accordance with the committee's rules.

Taylor Bank Robber Gets Six Years
EL DORADO (AP)—Howard Norman Gray faces a six-year prison sentence as a result of a bank robbery he said was brought on by unemployment and domestic troubles.
Gray pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court Tuesday to the July 18 robbery of a branch bank at Taylor, Ark., in which a lone gunman fled with $4,000. He was sentenced by Judge J. Smith Henley. Gray was arrested at San Angelo, Tex., several days after the robbery and most of the stolen money was recovered.

Conferences in 10 Major Cities

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today announced that regional conferences will be held in 10 major cities next month to discuss urgent national problems and future needs.
The conferences are scheduled in Chicago, St. Louis, Houston, Nashville, Detroit, Cleveland, New York, Philadelphia, San Francisco and Los Angeles.
In telegrams sent to governors and mayors who requested such conferences, the President said the sessions will concentrate on these four broad topics:
Full employment and economic growth; opportunities for youth; opportunities for senior citizens; and opportunities for the nation's cities.
Cabinet officers and other top government officials will participate, working in teams of four or five members each. They will solicit the views of local and state authorities on such problems as unemployment, juvenile delinquency, education, housing, urban renewal and civil defense.

Sues for Divorce
LONDON (AP)—Playwright John Osborne has filed a suit for divorce against his beautiful actress wife, Mary Ure, his lawyer said today.

The author of the successful play and movie "Look Back in Anger," Osborne is regarded here as Britain's original angry young man.
Osborne married Miss Ure, 28, in 1957.

New Irish Rule
DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—Irish men voted today for a new government to rule for the next three years.

A quiet election campaign wound up Tuesday night. The election is to fill the 144 seats in the Dail, Ireland's Parliament.

All People Rich or Poor, in Same Boat

By FRANK CAREY, Associated Press Science Writer

DURHAM, N. C. (AP)—A new approach to peace—getting nations to recognize that the planet's one billion children, rich or poor, are all in the same troubled boat—was suggested here today.
International experts in various fields gathered at Duke University for a unique symposium designed to introduce, and seek support for, a novel concept.
"This was that the world's kids constitute a single unit—a 'commonwealth of children,' transcending all national, racial, and cultural boundaries—and that all of them need a better break from their elders so they can develop into 'a mature adult society with a capacity for mutual understanding.'"
The five-day symposium, formally opening tonight, will feature discussions by specialists from the United States, Canada, England, Switzerland and India in the fields of education, culture, population trends, economics and health. The aim of the meeting is to stimulate action programs, by all nations, looking towards "a better life for children now and a better world tomorrow."

The conference was arranged to honor Dr. Wilburt C. Davison, internationally known children's doctor, who recently retired as dean of the Duke University Medical School.

At the end of the last Parliament the ruling Fianna Fail party held a majority with 78 seats. The government's major rival is the Fine Gael party with 41 seats. The Laborites held 12 and the rest of the Dail was filled by minor parties.

Plans Study of Campaign Financing

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Kennedy named a nine-member commission today to study whether the government should help finance the multimillion-dollar campaign outlays of candidates for national office.

Alexander Heard, dean of the graduate school, University of North Carolina, was named head of the commission. He is the author of "The Cost of Democracy," a book published last year which deals with campaign financing questions.

The other members are: V. O. Key, Cambridge, Mass., professor of government, Harvard College.

Dan Kimball, Los Angeles, president of Aerojet-General Corp., former secretary of the Navy. Malcolm Moos, New York City, former administrative assistant under former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Paul Porter, Washington lawyer and former chairman of the Federal Communications Commission. Neil Staebler, Ann Arbor, Mich., Democratic national committeeman for Michigan.

Walter N. Thayer, president of the New York Herald-Tribune and former chairman of the United Republican Finance Committee of New York.

John Vorvys, Columbus, Ohio, lawyer and former Republican member of Congress.

James Worthing, Chicago, former vice president of Sears Roebuck Co., who was an assistant secretary of commerce in the Eisenhower administration.

The White House described the commission as a "temporary, non-partisan, study group." It is to file recommendations with Kennedy next spring.

Present law sets a $3-million ceiling on campaign expenditures by national political committees. To comply with this, yet spend millions more, both major parties always sprout a crop of variously named independent committees in election years.

Candidates have been "forced to depend in the main on large sums from a relatively small number of contributors," the president said. "It is not healthy for the democratic process—or for ethical standards in our government—to keep our national candidates in this condition of dependence."

Deplores Aged Being Childish

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

Durham, N.C. (AP) - A Johns Hopkins philosopher today deplored what he termed efforts of American adults to be "childish" despite their age.

Speaking at a Duke University symposium on health and other problems of children, Dr. George B. Boas said: "Actually, adults have tried to return to the state of childhood while incapable of reversing their physical growth."

In this connection he criticized the "pathetic efforts which we Americans, more than any other people, make to be as little children: Our refusal to admit our age, our delight in childhood entertainments, our artificial youthfulness, our love of the 'cute.'"

He spoke at a symposium designed to introduce this novel concept: The world's one billion children constitute a single unit—a "commonwealth of children," transcending a national, racial and cultural boundaries—and that all of them need better support from their elders if world peace is to be achieved.

Speaking on the subject "What Is a Child?" Dr. Boas said: "Pediatricians have their own concepts of childhood. At the Johns Hopkins Hospital for instance, it was once agreed that a person ceases to be a child at the age of 14. But a person may stop being a psychological child without ceasing to be attached to his old doctors, and frightened by new ones. The use of age groups has been a great convenience to schoolteachers and statisticians, but it has been only a convenience."

Feels JFK Will Be Disappointed

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. Andrew F. Schoepel, R-Kan., predicted today that President Kennedy will get some disappointing political news about his program in a 10-city series of regional conferences next month.

Schoepel, a member of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said in an interview he believes that teams of Cabinet members and other officials sent to discuss domestic issues with local representatives will find many Kennedy proposals unpopular with the people.

"The people are going to be telling their senators and House members what they think of these programs," Schoepel said. "I think they will have more confidence in their elected representatives than in any political promises these teams make."

Kennedy announced Wednesday that meetings will be held in Chicago, St. Louis, Houston, Nashville, Detroit, Cleveland, New York, Philadelphia, San Francisco and Los Angeles, beginning Nov. 7, to discuss four broad topics with civic, local and state officials.

In telegrams to governors and mayors, Kennedy said the topics to be covered will include full employment and economic growth, opportunities for youth, opportunities for senior citizens and opportunities for the nation's cities.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said the administration is seeking "detailed information of the impact of legislation enacted in the last session of Congress in these areas."

Administration spokesmen had indicated clearly that efforts would be made to build up support for the next session of Congress.

Viet Nam Raids Now a Real War

WASHINGTON (AP) - Communist Guerrilla raids into South Viet Nam have exploded into a real war that is killing 1,500 persons a month, the State Department reports.

Joseph W. Reap, State Department press officer, also kidnapping of Lt. Hoang Thuy Nam, South Viet Nam's representative on the International Control Commission, more "evidence of Communist contempt for ICC and Communist reliance on terror as method of operation."

Informants said Rusk had an unannounced appointment with German Ambassador Wilhelm Grewe late Wednesday. The U.S. ambassador to Bonn, Walter Dowling, was called to Washington for consultations. He is expected to arrive Sunday.

Rusk was reported seeking a more comprehensive policy from the Germans on the Berlin-Germany issue now that the Sept. 17 West German elections are over. This is important to the Allies in shaping a common position in possible East-West negotiations.

The Kennedy-Gromyko meeting, in which Rusk will participate, is a windup to a series of three talks Rusk had with the Soviet minister in New York in a probe of Kremlin intentions toward Germany.

Premier Khrushchev has declared he will sign a peace treaty with Communist East Germany but has not made clear how this would affect the West's position in Berlin.

U.S. sources said it is premature to regard the Rusk-Gromyko talks as indicating Soviet willingness to negotiate on a basis acceptable to the West. They said the limited progress in the discussions gives grounds for neither optimism nor pessimism.

Kennedy is expected to ask Gromyko a number of questions about the Soviet position, and to send renewed word to Khrushchev of Western determination not to yield in Berlin.

Gromyko, who has been attending the opening U.N. sessions, plans to return to Moscow Sunday.

Hunter Is Man With Gold Touch

By YAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) - Hollywood's latest "man with the golden touch" is a 37-year-old former schoolteacher who won fame as a producer after failing in two other careers.

"I've had to make so many comebacks in my life I'm beginning to lose count of them," said Ross Hunter, who has stirred considerable awe in filmdom by turning out seven box office successes in a row.

"I was a has-been at 12. I was an out-of-work tap dancer, and probably the worst in the business," he said. "I was a has-been again at 24 as an actor."

A year-long illness broke up Hunter's promising career as an actor. He had appeared in 29 films, become a bobby sox favorite and was earning $1,000 a week.

"But they forget you fast in this business," he said. "When I was able to go back to work again, no one seemed to remember me. I couldn't find a job."

Hunter decided there was no future in sitting around moping over his old scrapbooks. He taught high school English and drama, spent his spare time learning film production from the ground up.

Like many a young producer, Ross started by grinding out low-budget cowboy and Indian action thrillers.

In 1954 Hunter talked studio executives into letting him spend $412,000 to make "All I Desire," starring Barbara Stanwyck. The picture returned a cool million-dollar profit, and the word went out from the front office, "give the boy what he wants."

Since then Ross has turned out three of the top 10 hits in Universal-International's 49-year history. He helped build or add new luster the careers of such stars as Debbie Reynolds, Rock Hudson, Doris Day, Lana Turner and Sandra Dee.

Four of his films—"Imitation of Life," "Portrait in Black," "Pillow Talk," and "Midnight Lace"—cost a total of less than $6 million to produce and already have brought in nearly $45 million.

"I'm not interested in delivering social messages," he said. "I give the people what they want—entertainment through glamour and beauty."

"I don't believe a housewife wants to leave her own dirty dishes in the sink to go to the movie and watch someone else washing dirty dishes in the sink," he said.

The Church of England cathedral of Liverpool has been under construction for 57 years. It may not be finished until the 1960's.

U.S. Trying to Clear Berlin Issue

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) - The United States was reported today to be seeking from the West Germans a clearer view of their policy on the Berlin issue as President Kennedy prepared for a meeting Friday with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

In advance of the Kennedy-Gromyko talk, Secretary of State Dean Rusk was advising Western Allies on his discussions with the Soviet Minister. He was giving particular attention to West Germany.

Informants said Rusk had an unannounced appointment with German Ambassador Wilhelm Grewe late Wednesday. The U.S. ambassador to Bonn, Walter Dowling, was called to Washington for consultations. He is expected to arrive Sunday.

Rusk was reported seeking a more comprehensive policy from the Germans on the Berlin-Germany issue now that the Sept. 17 West German elections are over. This is important to the Allies in shaping a common position in possible East-West negotiations.

Porkers Work Hard, Spirited for Froggies

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks were to go through another hard workout today as they continued preparations for their Southwest Conference opener with Texas Christian Saturday.

Coach Frank Broyles indicated there would be no slacking of pace, as is usually the case about midweek.

The Hogs put in a spirited two and one-half hour workout Wednesday and Broyles said they showed more zip than has been evident in the past two weeks.

"For the type players we have," Broyles said, "we've got to have quickness and aggressiveness in line play to make up for the difference in weight we're going to give away to TCU and the other Southwest Conference teams. If we don't have quickness and aggressiveness we're not going to win very many ball games."

Broyles noted that the SWC opener is the "greatest challenge of the season."

He said the Porkers are "taking the conference opener a lot more seriously than they did the season opener against Ole Miss."

It appeared the Razorbacks would go into the TCU game without the rash of injuries which plagued them in the first two games of the season.

End Tim Langston and right guard Dean Garrett, both of whom have shoulder injuries, worked out Wednesday but avoided any heavy contact work. Both are expected to see action Saturday.

Quarterback Billy Moore, who missed the Hogs' first two games because of a bad knee, also was on the practice field Wednesday and showed little effect of the injury.

The Porkers devoted the first part of Wednesday's practice to correcting flaws which were noted in a film of Tuesday's workout. There also was a heavy session on goal line defense.

HERE'S A SWITCH

Yanks Become 4-1 Favorites to Take Series

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — With an impressive first game victory behind them, the New York Yankees today had jumped from 2½-1 to 4-1 favorites over the Cincinnati Reds as the World Series moved into its second game.

A fair, cool day was predicted for the windup of the opening two-game phase of the series in New York. After Friday off for travel, the firing resumes Saturday in Cincinnati.

Roger Maris, fresh from his 61-home run season, was a bust. And the other half of the Yankees' main slugging punch, Mickey Vernon, was benched. But the Yankees used a simple one-two home run salvo by two lesser acclimated heavy hitters — Elston Howard and Bill Skowron — to settle the Reds, 2-0, in a tight series opener Wednesday.

Whitey Ford's masterful two-hit pitching gem was the big conversation piece of the opener. It marked the doughty Yankee left-hander's third successive series shutout and put him in position Sunday, in a likely second start, of topping Babe Ruth's record of 29-2-3 consecutive scoreless innings. Ford now has 27. Today's second game, starting at noon (Eastern Standard Time), pits Cincinnati's winningest pitcher, Joey Jay (21-10) against Yankee Ralph Terry (16-3), who last October had the misfortune of losing the pitch which Pittsburgh's Bill Mazeroski clouted for a World Series-deciding homer.

Each club was expected to make a slight lineup revision today.

With Mantle, still bothered by an aching hip, expected to sit it out again, Yankee Manager Ralph Houk indicated Johnny Blanchard would start in right field instead of Hector Lopez with a right-hander going for the Reds.

Maris, who failed to get the ball out of the infield Wednesday and struck out once, will remain in Mantle's center field spot. And Blanchard figures to provide better punch than Lopez in Maris' customary right field berth. Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson hinted a Redleg shuffle would move first baseman Gordy Coleman into the fifth batting position and drop right fielder Wally Post and third baseman Gene Freese to sixth and seventh.

With Terry, a right-handed pitcher, Hutchinson prefers to have the left-handed hitting Coleman face Terry ahead of Post and Freese, both right-handers. However, based on Cincinnati's lack of offense Wednesday, the Reds have a long way to go to strike any terror into the hearts of Yankee pitching.

Only Eddie Kasko, with a first inning single, and Post, slugging a fifth inning single, were able to solve Ford's superb delivery. Ford used only 115 pitches in tying the Reds into knots. But he did get two magnificent fielding assists from third baseman Cleve Boyer.

Boyer made a fine play on Freese's smash in the second inning, but he really thrilled the crowd of 62,397 in the eighth as he made a diving stop of pinch-hitter Dick Gernert's blue dart and threw him out from his knees.

The luckless loser was Jim O'Toole, who hadn't yielded a home run since July 28 in 16 regular season games. The Cincinnati lefty, who finished the National League season with a 19-9 record and had won his last eight decisions, was the big series hope of the Redlegs.

He did a strong job of halting the heralded Maris, but the blows of Howard and Skowron simply underscored the fact that the home run lightning is likely to break out anywhere in the well-balanced Yankee lineup.

O'Toole pitched himself out of two bad jams—with the bases loaded in the first, and with two Yankees runners aboard in the fourth. When he was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the eighth, he had "yielded six hits. Jim Brosnan finished for the Reds with a hitless eighth, although walking Yogi Berra, who set a series record virtually every time he picks up a bat or glove.

The Yankees' former star catcher, who now patrols left field in a quaint but efficient fashion, is in his 12th series and Wednesday appeared in his 69th series game.

Ford, 32, from Lake Success, N.Y., issued only one walk and, in striking out six, swelled his own World Series strikeout record to 69. Ford also now holds the undisputed series record with his eight victories. He also has started more World Series games than any other pitcher, 15.

There was nearly a rhabarb in the fifth inning when the busy Boyer, tagging out Post cruising from second to third, was rudely jolted by the 215-pound Redleg outfielder. It was a sort of foot-

Rushing Race in AIC Is Close

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Ted McConaughy of State Teacher and Bill Curtis of Arkansas Tech are in a head and head race for the individual rushing title in the Arkansas Interscholastic Conference.

Figures released today by AIC Commissioner Cliff Shaw show McConaughy with 242 yards and an average of 5.9 yards a carry to a total of 231 yards and a 5.4 yard average for Curtis.

Larry Shofner of Southern State passed McConaughy in the total offense division. Shofner has 134 yards passing and 120 rushing for a total of 254, an average of 5.3 yards per effort.

Shofner is second to Tom Carter of Harding in passing. Harding has 14 completions for 31 tries to Shofner's 7 hits for 21 throws.

Southern State's David Alpe and Curtis are tied for the scoring lead with 24 points on four touchdowns each.

Financier Is Named by Mr. Knight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Godwin J. Knight has named Los Angeles financier J. Howard Edgerton as the man he says tried to lure him out of the 1962 governor's race.

Knight, California's governor from 1953-58, said Edgerton acted on behalf of former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, now in a bitter struggle with Knight for the Republican's gubernatorial nomination. Nixon and Edgerton denied the accusation.

Knight, 64, told a nationally televised news conference on Wednesday that:

Nixon told Knight that Edgerton would contact him on Nixon's behalf, and that Edgerton later offered him, Knight, any state job he wanted—up to chief justice of California's Supreme Court—if he would withdraw.

Knight had made the charges before—but had not identified Edgerton until Wednesday's news conference. He also presented to newsmen his wife Virginia and Sacramento attorney Paul Mason, Knight's former state motor vehicle director. Both said they overheard the Sept. 8 telephone call when the alleged offer was made.

Knight gave this version of the sequence of events leading to the Sept. 8 phone call:
June 20, 1961—Knight met Nixon at a Los Angeles reception. Nixon said: "I still want to have a talk with you."

July 18 or 19—Edgerton phoned Knight, said Nixon had asked Edgerton to talk with Knight about Knight's plans.

July 29—Knight and Nixon talked briefly. Nixon said: "You will be hearing from Howard Edgerton very soon."

Sometime later—Edgerton invited Knight to lunch with him Aug. 3. Edgerton told Knight that Nixon doesn't want to run. Knight repeated he'll run.

Aug. 7—Knight, Nixon and Edgerton met at Nixon's home. Nixon said he doesn't want to run for governor, believes Knight could be elected, says he will endorse him. Nixon said he'll communicate with Knight thereafter only through Edgerton.

Sept. 7—Edgerton tried to call Knight, who was in Sacramento, but could not reach him.

Sept. 8—Knight returned Edgerton's call, got alleged offer, signaled his wife and Mason to listen in on the phone conversation. Edgerton, a former Knight supporter, acknowledged that Knight had called him from Sacramento Sept. 8. But as for offering any deal, he said in a public letter to Knight, "Goodie, this just simply is not the fact."

Some 4,900,000 Americans visited Canada during 1960, while 700,000 went south of the border, to Mexico.

Picking the Colleges in Play Saturday

By WICK TEMPLE
Associated Press Sports Writer

Texas Christian and Arkansas go into Saturday night's Southwest Conference opener in Little Rock playing reserve roles.

TCU was expected to be a soft touch this year and Arkansas was expected to make a fierce defense of its title.

Each team has played two games and TCU looks much the fiercer.

The Horned Frogs upset Kansas 17-16, then tied Ohio State 7-7. Both opponents were nationally ranked. Arkansas showed nothing in an 18-0 loss to Mississippi, then beat Tulsa 6-0.

Pre-season outlooks notwithstanding, TCU rates a two-touchdown edge in this one.

Here's the week's Arkansas college outlook:

Texas Christian 20, Arkansas 7. The big question is whether Arkansas' offense can get started. Billy Moore, who missed the first two games, could be the necessary spark.

Arkansas State 13, Montana State 0. The Indian offense that sputtered against South Dakota and died against Louisiana Tech came impressively to life in a 13-7 victory over Florence State last week and should be ready now.

Arkansas Tech 27, Southern State 13. Southern looked like a possible upset but until it lost to Harding last week.

Ouachita 14, Harding 13. Ouachita held State Teachers to 13-0 last week and looks like a good, tough football team.

Henderson 13, Mississippi College. The Mississippians won't find the Reddies as weak as Arkansas A&M (28-0) or as down as Southern State (20-0).

State Teachers 21, Ozarks 0. Ozarks' surge in losing to Henderson 20-14 last week leaves everybody wondering. But not wondering enough to think they can beat the Bears.

Mississippi 19, Arkansas A&M 0. The Weevils may win one, but not this one.

Reds Admit Whitey Ford Is Rough

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds admitted today almost to a man, that if they had to face Whitey Ford every day, they might as well fold their tents and go home.

Ford, the only native-born member of the New York Yankees, mowed the Reds down, 2-0, on a slick 2-hitter to give the Yanks a 1-0 World Series edge Wednesday. A couple of the Reds even paid him the supreme compliment of comparing him with Warren Spahn as the top left-hander they ever had faced.

"He had more stuff than Spahn yesterday," said first baseman Gordy Coleman. "But, gosh, how many days can a guy throw a 2-hitter?"

Only Eddie Kasko and Wally Post got hits off Ford, both singles. He completely throttled the Reds' big guns, Frank Robinson and Vada Pinson.

"He kept pitching me tight and getting me out," said Robinson, who struck out in both his official at-bats. "He sure surprised me with all the fast balls he threw."

Observed Pinson: "Ford is faster than Spahn. He pitches his game. He never gave us a chance."

Ford's victory Wednesday gave him eight in the World Series, breaking his tie with Red Ruffing and Allie Reynolds, both former Yankees. The shutout also gave him 27 consecutive scoreless innings. Three more and he'll break Babe Ruth's World Series record of 29-2-3 back in the days before the Babe became an outfielder.

Joe Jay Not Frightened by Yankees

By HAROLD HARRISON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds are one down to the New York Yankees in the 1961 World Series but the Yanks still don't frighten Joe Jay.

Jay is scheduled to pitch today against the Yanks. He sat and watched Wednesday as Whitey Ford shut out the Reds, 2-0, allowing only two hits. He also sat and watched as Elston Howard and Bill Skowron hit home runs off Jim O'Toole, providing the margin of victory.

After it was all over Jay said: "I know how I'm going to pitch against them and that's the way I'm going to do it."

He didn't disclose his formula. Jay is the pitcher the Reds acquired during the off-season in a trade with the Milwaukee Braves. He's a one-time Little Leaguer who graduated into a big leaguer. He never had won more than nine games in his major league career until he finished the 1961 season with a 21-10 record.

There were plenty of "ifs" in Wednesday's postgame discussion.

One of them involved the first inning. Eddie Kasko singled with one out and Vada Pinson hit deep to center, where Roger Maris made the catch.

"That would have been over the fence or off the wall in Crosley Field," was the comment.

In the fifth, Gene Freese hit one to left after Wally Post had gotten Cincinnati's only other hit. It also was an "if" job, since a nice catch by Yogi Berra kept it from dropping in — maybe for a double.

Reds' Manager Fred Hutchinson was quick to praise the pitching of Ford.

He also praised his own starter, O'Toole.

"The only thing he (O'Toole) could have done was shut them out," Hutchinson said. "The other guy just pitched a little better," he added.

Police Chief Resigns at Denver

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Worn and disheartened, Police Chief James E. Childers, 69, retired Wednesday four days after burglary charges against another 22 present or former policemen.

"The pressure of the last week makes it so I just can't take it any more," he told reporters. "It's beyond human endurance." Childers' retirement, effective immediately, caught city officials and members of the 786-man police force by surprise.

Safety Manager John M. Schooley, 54, became acting chief. He said a new chief will not be appointed until a reorganization study is completed.

Thirty-five present or former Denver police officers have been charged in connection with a wave of burglaries dating back to 1947.

Only last Saturday, when new charges were disclosed against 22 men, Childers told reporters: "I've never been tagged as a quitter, and I'm not going to quit."

But his doctor and his wife convinced him, he said, to end 45 years of police work, including 23 years as chief. His resignation was accepted with reluctance by Mayor Dick Batten.

Community Effort

The other morning I had the opportunity to be in a meeting that was one of a series of meetings, which are getting everything set to kick off the "United Fund Drive" for Hope and Hempstead County. I am sure you agree with me that assisting "our less fortunate" brother through this united effort is something that takes the community working together, so that the goals might be reached, and that the different agencies might have the funds to operate during the coming year. So come, October 16 through October 31, let's all pull together and give to this very worthy cause.

See Yourself on TV

We're especially proud of our exhibit (held over from the recent Hot Springs Nuclear Energy Seminar) on display this week at the Arkansas Livestock Exposition in Little Rock. And YOU are the star. Part of our exhibit, in the south end of the Merchants Exhibit tent, shows five TV picture bounced off a scale model outer space satellite, similar to the now famous Echo "balloon." The pictures transmitted are of the people who visit our exhibit.

Another feature is called the "optical master," which shows how sound can be sent through the air, traveling on light waves. These two demonstrations are only a part of the scientific marvels you'll see, too. I hope you'll find time to attend the livestock show before it closes Saturday night, and while you're there I hope you'll visit the Southwestern Bell — Arkansas exhibit in the Merchants Exhibit tent.

To Each Her Own Princess

You've probably heard that phrase quite a bit this month. What does it mean to you?

Well, if you're a member of the fair sex, it can mean the added convenience and sense of security you enjoy with a Princess telephone next to your bed. If you're a teenage princess, a Princess phone in your own room can mean a special kind of privacy when you talk with your friends.

If you're not a member of the fair sex, "To Each Her Own Princess" is a timely reminder that can make you a hero with the ladies in your home by surprising them with a Princess phone of their own. Just call the Telephone Business Office, PR 7-4601.

No Progress in Learning Red Plans

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Western foreign ministers were reported today to be making slow progress in obtaining information from Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko on Soviet plans for negotiating the Berlin crisis. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Foreign Secretary Lord Home of Britain have spent a total of more than 10 hours meeting with the top Soviet diplomat in the past eight days, and their main questions about Soviet intentions are said to be still unanswered.

Western diplomats reported the talks have yielded some slight indication that the Soviet Union may be seriously interested in arranging a Big Four foreign ministers conference later on, but it obviously is in no haste to do so.

Some Western officials think Premier Khrushchev probably prefers to stall off a conference until after a Soviet Communist party meeting in Moscow late next month. There is speculation he may sign the treaty with Communist East Germany or announce definite plans for signing it at that time. This he may not want to get into negotiations until he has acted.

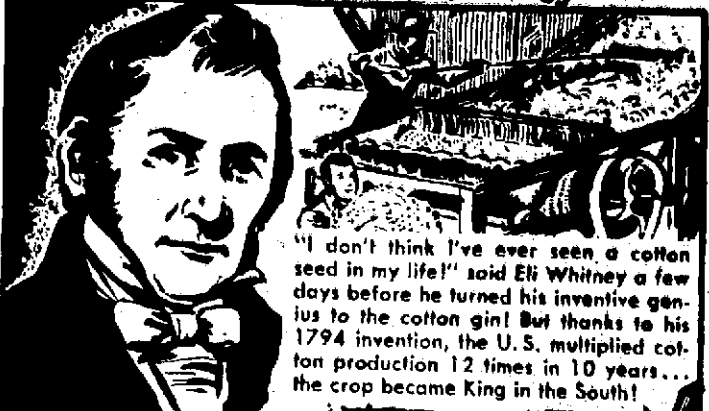

Home and Gromyko spent an hour and 20 minutes together late Thursday. It was their second meeting. Rusk previously had held two long conferences with Gromyko and is scheduled to meet him again Saturday morning.

Rusk then will hold a final talk with Home here Saturday afternoon. He plans to return to Washington Saturday night and Home expects to fly to London Sunday. Their departures probably will not end the talks, however, for Gromyko may go to Washington next week for another meeting with Rusk.

On the Western side the aim of all this diplomatic activity is twofold: to try to find out from Gromyko whether Khrushchev is interested in a Berlin compromise and, if so, whether a broad basis for negotiations can be agreed on.

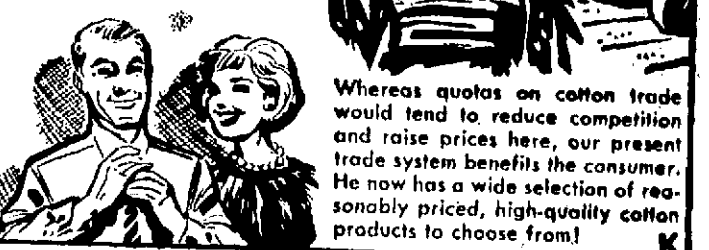

Both Khrushchev and President Kennedy have said they want a peaceful settlement of the dispute. But Kennedy has made clear he will not negotiate on Khrushchev's terms, and Khrushchev has given

Wonderful World by Whom

"I don't think I've ever seen a cotton seed in my life!" said Eli Whitney a few days before he turned his inventive genius to the cotton gin. But thanks to his 1794 invention, the U.S. multiplied cotton production 12 times in 10 years... the crop became King in the South!

World cotton production hit a new peak of 46.9 million bales this year... 14.3 million from the U.S. alone! Cotton plays a major role in U.S. commerce. For every 12 bales we sell to Japan, we import the equivalent of only one bale in finished textiles... bringing us a favorable balance of $124.8 million in trade in 1960!

Won't Slash Air Strength in Britain

LONDON (AP)—The United States has shelved plans for cutting air strength in Britain during the present world crisis, Air Force Secretary Eugene M. Zuckert announced today.

The secretary told a news conference that plans for "phasing out" four tactical air bases in the United Kingdom have been delayed indefinitely.

He said the decision to maintain full strength was designed to "increase in substance our practical capability over what we had previously planned." He said the program would permit greater support of the Army.

Four reconnaissance and three tactical bomber squadrons, a total of 100 planes now stationed at the bases, would have been deactivated under the cut announced June 21. That would have meant a decrease in American expenditure in Britain of $40 to $50 million. Zuckert arrived today from a tour of U.S. bases in France and no clear sign that he is willing to change his terms. Gromyko is understood to have emphasized to Home all over again Thursday that the Soviet government wants to make a Berlin settlement only in the framework of an East German peace treaty.

By this approach the Soviets seek to get one of their main points, which is that eventually the stationing of Western troops in West Berlin must come to an end.

The Business Picture in Arkansas

By LEON HATCH

Associated Press Staff Writer

A new state law changing the regulations for detached tellers windows for banks has had little overall effect so far.

Theo P. Carson, assistant state bank commissioner, said one Little Rock bank has added two new windows and that the Citizens Bank at Jonesboro and the Union Bank at Beto were building new facilities.

The law, passed at the regular legislative session last winter permits a bank for the first time to have tellers' windows away from its main office but still within the same city.

Carson said rate of future growth of the detached facilities is problematical.

"They are a wonderful convenience for depositors, but more time will be necessary to tell whether they are profitable in the long run for the banks," Carson said.

In keeping with a trend not confined to banks, the new windows are drive-in facilities in suburban areas.

Increasing popularity of suburban drive-in banking was at least one factor in the change—the first since 1935 in this phase of banking operations—which the legislature made.

The suburban drive-in window is a comparatively recent development in Arkansas.

Carson said the first in the state was installed by the First National Bank in Little Rock at the southwestern edge of the city in 1955.

This was not the first drive-in banking facility by any means, but the earlier ones were physically a part of the parent institution, either under the same roof or connected by a passageway or similar device.

The new teller's station was five miles or so from the main bank and at the time—as required by the law then in effect—was outside the city limits.

Other banks quickly followed suit, notably in Little Rock and Pine Bluff, Carson said.

The out-of-city requirement led to one interesting ramification.

Sometimes in annexation proceedings the plot on which the suburban branch stood wasn't included so the bank wouldn't have to close its detached window.

The tiny area remained an island of theoretically rural real estate surrounded by the new city property.

The need for this has been done away with by the new law, which specifies that annexation won't change the status of already-established branch windows.

Although more tellers' windows are possible under the new legislation, the number, placing and operation are strictly limited and regulated.

Briefly, size of the city, size of the bank and distance of the window from another bank are the determining factors.

Authorization from the state bank commissioner or national banking authorities is necessary, depending on whether the bank is state- or federally-chartered.

"Business of the branch is restricted to deposits, withdrawals, the issuance of cashiers' checks and the like.

Renting of safety deposit boxes and the making of loans are specifically forbidden.

Jobless Drop Would Be Good

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—A drop in long-time unemployment could be the most significant news so far in the business recovery period.

That is because it could herald the rise in consumer spending that both business and government have been awaiting as the signal of really good times ahead.

Government spending is up. Business spending for inventories and plans for more spending for expansion are up. Together they have given the industrial sector of the economy a quick climb out of the recession low point of last March. But consumer spending has lagged.

That lag is shown in retail sales reports, which are little better than even with last year when the recession was the big news.

One reason given for the continuing cautious consumer buying and increased saving is the historical one. Usually consumer confidence takes several months to revive after the recession low has been turned.

But another reason is the total of unemployment. For months it has stuck stubbornly close to 7 per cent. Although unemployment benefits, relief payments, and individual savings help cushion the blow, there is still a drag on consumer spending.

And even those with jobs tend to fret about their future when they see their neighbors laid off or going onto short week schedules—or worse still unable to find new jobs after weeks and even months of idleness.

Much of the joblessness during the recession was in the industrial sector of the economy. And in the early months of the recovery factories tended to increase the length of the work week rather than take on new hands.

But the average work week now has recovered most of its loss. Increasing factory output should mean more jobs, over and above the gains in mechanization that have seen more goods turned out from the same man hours of labor.

New orders increased on manufacturers' books in August, the Department of Commerce reports. Private reports indicate the trend continued in October. Increases in production and in hiring are reported from various sectors.

Steel output is now at its highest point in 1961. New orders point to good levels in October, and steelmen are now predicting a further gain in November.

Construction spending went to a new high in September. All of this, and other good economic signs, should add up to further cuts in the unemployment total. Federal officials are now predicting that stubborn 7 per cent may be licked soon and that the total may be around 6 per cent before the year is over.

School Tax Hike Asked at L. R.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Little Rock voters will be asked to approve a 3-mill tax increase and a $4.5 million construction bond issue at the December school election. The school board voted Tuesday to place the construction program and millage increase on the ballot. The bond issue would be repaid with money already collected for debt service. Most of the millage increase would go to boost teacher salaries. The present Little Rock school tax rate is 42 mills.

Francisco Franco's call for renovation of the U.S.-Spanish military pact aroused speculation here today that he might be seeking nuclear weapons.

Spanish and U.S. officials in Madrid declined to comment. Franco urged a renovation of the 1953 U.S.-Spanish aid-for-bases agreement in a speech to his Cabinet and top military commanders Sunday in Burgos where he observed the 25th anniversary of his rule.

The law doesn't envision a branch as a palatial structure. Lobby space may not exceed 300 feet.

Under the 1935 law a number of banks established teller branches in towns, in other counties, which lacked banking facilities.

This is not possible under the new law, but under certain conditions a bank may set up a teller's window in another town in the same county.

Carson said the banking situation had changed in the 26 years between the 1936 and 1961.

He noted that the state was still in a depression in 1935. Many banks had closed and many sizeable towns desperately needed banking facilities. The 1935 law was designed, he said, to give the legislative aid needed at the time the 1931 law, to meet the needs of a new day.

Army Plans Another Zeus Shot

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army plans to try again next weekend to fire its Nike Zeus antimissile out over the Pacific.

The test, probably on Saturday, will come at a time when the Army is bidding anew for money to start limited production of parts for the controversial system.

Nearly a month ago, on Sept. 9, Army technicians made their first effort to shoot the Nike Zeus from Point Mugu, Calif. Shortly after the missile shot skyward it exploded.

Although rebuffed repeatedly in the past, the Army is known to be seeking again to win an allocation in next year's defense budget for starting production of long-range items for the Zeus system.

Officials declined to say how much money was being sought, but it appeared likely the request might be about $100 million. The Army hoped for that amount a year ago but was turned down.

In addition to production money, the Army is asking for about $200 million in the 1963 fiscal year for further development work on the Zeus, the most advanced U.S. antimissile system. This would bring to about $1.4 billion the amount applied of Zeus research and development.

Testifying before congressional groups earlier this year, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara spoke of "widespread doubts as to whether the Nike Zeus system should ever be deployed."

He said then that the system, mostly above ground, is vulnerable to ballistic missile attack. He also indicated he was not convinced that the Zeus could work effectively against enemy missiles screened by decoys.

Since then, resumption of Soviet nuclear testing has given rise to speculation that the Soviets may be working on an antimissile system. The Army hopes this development on the Zeus.

New Space Venture

LONDON (AP)—A Soviet rocket expert hinted today the U.S.S.R. is about to bring off a spectacular new space launching. Dr. Vladimir Dobrenravov said on Moscow radio current tests of "new and more powerful multi-stage rockets for the launching of objects into space are going off very successfully."

"This, it may be supposed that in the near future the whole world will witness new and most interesting achievements by the Soviet people in the conquest of interplanetary space."

Western observers have guessed that the U.S.S.R. might stage a space spectacular about the time of the Soviet Communist party congress opening in Moscow Oct. 17.

Thinks One New Show Has 'Promise'

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A troika of new programs made their first appearances on network television Tuesday night. One was promising; one, reminiscent, and the third, an oft-told tale.

The promising one was CBS' "The Dick Van Dyke Show." It is a situation comedy of the classic television mold: the young couple consisting of the mother-knows-best wife and the husband who is just an overgrown little boy.

But it was dreamed up by Carl Reiner, a good comedian turned writer, and the boyish husband is played by a talented rubber-faced, rubber-boned comedian named

Dick Van Dyke, so it looks as if there's a new TV family around for the audience to clasp warmly to its collective bosom.

If you close your eyes during ABC's animated cartoon "Calvin and the Colonel," visions of the old Amos 'n' Andy show will dance in your head—and with good reason. Freeman Gosden and Charles Correll, who were Amos 'n' Andy, play the Colonel, a fox who tries hard to be wily, and Calvin, a bumbling, strong-backed bear.

Although this is alleged to be one of the cartoon shows for adults, it would fit better into the late afternoon children's hour of TV. Incidentally, the animation is crude compared with the slick jobs being turned out by Walt Disney and the Hanna-Barbera studios.

ABC's "The New Breed" is another hour-long police action story. Its gimmick is the glorification of career cops with college degrees. In this case the policemen—all attractive young men—are members of the Los Angeles police metropolitan squad which tackles special and difficult problems.

Tuesday night's special problem was a mentally deranged war veteran who had lost his daughter through illness. He develops an insane dislike for a doctor he believes responsible for her death, and in revenge, kidnaps the physician's little daughter. He plans to kill her along with himself by exploding a grenade in a children's hospital.

There is the usual hunt, the closing in and, of course, the last-minute rescue. I've seen this with slight variations a number of times lately but usually in the 30-minute version. The only way the "New Breed" cops seemed different from the old breed was that they agreed not to give the kidnap story to the newspapers.

Recommended tonight: "The Alvin Show," premiere, CBS, 7:30-8 (EST)—still another animated cartoon comedy series fea-

JFK Signs School Bill Into a Law

By HARRY KELLY.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has signed into law "with extreme reluctance" a bill containing the remains of his aid to education program.

The measure: (1) extends for two years the program of aid for school districts crowded with children of federal personnel and (2) continues for two years the National Defense Education Act.

The former, known as the impacted areas program, carries about $300 million a year in U.S. grants. The Defense Education Act, which provides loans to college students and aids to teaching of science, mathematics and foreign languages, has been costing about $250 million a year.

It was all Congress granted the President of the ambitious federal aid to education program he proposed this year.

Kennedy Tuesday night vetoed a bill that would have given $60.8 million a year in pay raises to 500,000 postal workers through quicker longevity increases.

In a veto memorandum Kennedy said, "Budgetary needs are too urgent to permit approval of this measure unattended by revenue increases."

Congress did not pass the postal rate increases recommended by both the Kennedy and Eisenhower administrations. The President cited this as one of the reasons he vetoed the measure. He said the proposed raises would have increased the postal deficit to more than $800 million.

Despite the extra costs, said Kennedy, the bill would not have achieved its objectives.

He said civil service and postal pay structures need extensive revision and promised that the administration will make recommendations to the next session of Congress.

In signing the education measure, Kennedy said in a statement:

"It ill becomes those who insist that we cannot afford the expenditure of federal funds to aid the public education of all children to insist with equal fervor upon the passage of this unsound and uneconomical measure which aids the education of only some."

Kennedy announced that he will try again next year to push through his broader education program.

Graft on Formosa

HONG KONG (AP)—Wesley C. Haralson, head of the U.S. aid program on Formosa, said today grant aid to the Nationalist Chinese stronghold will start to decline in 1962.

Haralson called for elimination of what he termed graft, corruption, favoritism and unnecessary red tape on Formosa and the encouragement of private enterprise.

He reported the United States has poured $1.2 billion in economic aid into Formosa the past 10 years. He said the future trend of U.S. aid depends on Congress but "in general it is clear that grant aid will decline."

turing animals: "Perry Como Show," NBC, 9-10—variety show returns for another season; "Mrs. G. Goes to College," premiere, CBS, 9:30-10—start of a comedy series starring Gertrude Berg and Sir Cedrick Hardwicke; "Theater '62," premiere, NBC, 10-11—"The Spiral Staircase," a new adaptation of an old suspense story with Lillian Gish, Gig Young, Elizabeth Montgomery and Eddie Albert.

Shock Gone for Victim of Carla

By CHARLES GREEN

ANGLETON, Tex. (AP)—The shock is gone. Robert Dunn is settled in a routine almost normal for a 15-year-old.

The routine would be normal except Robert takes time each day to thank people by mail for money, clothes and kind words. He personally thanks Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Swanson of Angleton for giving him a home.

Robert lost 11 members of his family in Hurricane Carla.

His parents, four brothers and sisters, an aunt, an uncle, and three cousins were swept away by the storm's flood waters Sept. 11. They had tried to ride out the hurricane in the Dunn house.

"The last time I saw mom and dad they were holding hands and she was crying," he said.

The Swansons were close friends of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. (Shorty) Dunn.

"The Lord has blessed us with good incomes and we have a large house," Mrs. Swanson said. "We had been thinking of adopting an older boy and we know what kind of a boy Robert is."

Mrs. Swanson, 37, teaches first grade at an Angleton school. Her husband, 35, is a maintenance worker for a chemical company.

Money sent to Robert has been placed in a savings account for him to use when he goes to college.

NLRB Told Man Failed in Test

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A National Labor Relations Board examiner was told today that failure to pass an examination and not a union shop agreement kept G. F. Miller from being employed as a welder at missile base construction sites near Little Rock.

Joe Gray, welding supervisor for Yuba Industries, a contractor on the missile jobs, said Miller was one of 158 applicants who failed the test. Since last March 1,430 have passed it, Gray said.

Examiner Tom Wilson, after the hearing, will make recommendations to the NLRB.

Miller charged in a complaint to the board that the contractor and the Iron Workers Union had an illegal hiring arrangement which amounted to unfair labor practice.

'Tortured' Chairs Are Here to Stay

By JOY MILLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Getting to like plastic chairs that look tubular, tortured, or like diseased mushrooms?

Then stick around. The next decade or two are for you.

John Van Koert, one of the country's eminent designers, predicts new shapes, forms and functions in furniture in the next 10 to 15 years, dictated by kinds of material available.

Fine woods are disappearing, he points out, and in a few years furniture will be made of plastics or metal, with wood used only for decorative purposes.

"The whole domestic architecture will be different," says Van Koert. "Rooms will not be bedrooms, dining rooms and so forth, as we know them. People will live all over a house, which will be subdivided according to needs. There will be no dead areas. Everything will be more convertible. More folding furniture will be used, and sliding screens. Beds will fold away. Most things can be put away right after you've finished using them."

Van Koert expects the new furniture to be less expensive.

"We're going to have an economic breakthrough in furniture when the industry gets really industrialized. As in terms of the metals industry, for example, the furniture industry isn't industrialized. It still has hand work. I like hand work, but it's expensive and in this case it's not expression of individual artistry but merely that there's no machine to do the work."

88 Additional Americans Are Stranded

By HAL R. COOPER

LONDON (AP)—A charter plane party of 88 stranded Californians was told today it faced an indefinite wait for the flight home. The group is the second left without transportation by the same charter airline within a week.

The Californians, members of the British-American Club of Los Angeles, were scheduled to take off from Gatwick Airport Tuesday afternoon. Their plane, operated by President Airlines of Los Angeles, failed to appear.

"I'm afraid you'll have to come back again later," booking agent C. F. Beard told the group this morning. "I understand that the only airplane available is having a maintenance check in New York. They hope to get off for London some time tonight."

The travelers had spent the night at hotels and with British friends and relatives.

A second touring party—98 Irish-Americans from Chicago—finally took off for home on a President Airlines charter plane early today after a seven-day wait at Shannon Airport in Ireland.

The Los Angeles group, including many British wives of soldiers formerly stationed in the United Kingdom, had spent a one-month holiday in this country.

Most of them appeared to have enough money left to pay for meals and lodgings. But airport authorities allowed those short on cash to sleep in the airport lounge.

In Los Angeles, Glen H. Taylor, owner of President Airlines, said the firm's troubles began when one of its planes crashed at Shannon last Sept. 10. The crash in effect wiped out one-third of the company's three-plane fleet.

Taylor said the airline had about 700 tourist passengers in Europe at the time and the remaining planes "just couldn't operate on regular schedules."

President has purchased 34 other planes and plans to put them in operation soon, he added.

Election Contest Testimony to End

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP)—Testimony in an election contest suit growing out of last summer's Democratic primaries for two city offices may end today.

Circuit Judge Edward Maddox, who has heard witnesses for five days, has not indicated whether he will rule immediately or take the case under submission.

Mayor Charlie Wood and Alderman Hansel Harris filed the suit against J. T. Brown and George Textor. Brown beat Wood by 10 votes and Textor edged Harris by one in returns certified by the Greene County Democratic Central Committee.

The committee rejected a request from Wood and Harris for a recount.

Wood and Harris have asked the court to order a recount and to certify them as winners of the election.

Brown and Textor resisted the suit and filed cross-complaints of their own.

Time Out For Fun

The first carnival games were played by the cave man using rocks and tree stumps to "bow" and "pitch". Youngsters can now have the thrill of their own carnival at home with "The Flintstones" Bowling and Pitch Game taken from the popular TV cartoon.

Another addition to the home carnival—Transogram's "Break-A-Plate" Pitch Game that can be set up in its own gaily striped "carnival stand" box. You throw plastic balls at hanging plates which fall apart when hit . . . can be fitted together for re-use!

"Huckle-Chuck"—a three-in-one carnival fun game—will really draw crowds! Large as life, this sturdy masonite figure of TV's lovable Huckleberry Hound has a moving head and 3-D mouth! You toss rings onto his hat brim, vinyl beanbags into his mouth, and darts at his target-body! All three Transogram games are available nationwide.

Why Don't People Drive Better?

FREMONT, Neb. (AP)—"Why can't people drive better? Why can't they be more careful?" Roger Lewis, 11, stubbornly held back tears as he spoke.

"I don't know who was to blame," he said slowly. "But someone must have been careless, or they'd have come for me and we'd all be together again."

His grandmother laid her hand on his shoulder. They sat together on an old studio couch beneath a tree, both thinking of his future.

Roger Lewis and his family had driven up Sunday from their home in Blair, a little Missouri River town 25 miles east of Fremont. Roger's stepfather, Dallas Talkington, was going to apply for a job Monday at a concrete products plant here.

Roger's mother let him spend Sunday night with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Dahmens. The Talkingtons would pick him up Monday, she told him.

Talkington, 46, had found the going tough since bringing his family from Craig, Colo., 10 months ago but they had stayed off relief. Two months ago Talkington got a job in a Blair factory. When he found the paint fumes there made him ill, he started looking for another job.

Talkington didn't get the job he sought in Fremont. So he headed the family's 1953 model car for the Danheims modest cabin. With him were Roger's mother, Dora, 29, and the boy's sister and four half brothers.

As the car wheeled out of the industrial district onto the highway it collided with a semi-trailer truck. The car rolled into the ditch, the trailer on top of it.

The Talkingtons and their five children were killed.

Only Roger, at his grandparents' cabin, survived.

Foundation Upheld by Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court has upheld validity of the $50,000 Ben J. Altheimer Foundation set up by Altheimer before his death in 1946.

Churches and charities in Jefferson County get most of the income from the foundation but part of it goes to pay an agriculture professor's salary at the University of Arkansas and some is reserved for private purposes.

Mrs. Elsie J. Selig of Pine Bluff claimed that the foundation was void and the assets belonged in a testamentary trust to benefit Altheimer's relatives and associates. She represented the estate of Ben J. Altheimer Jr., of California.

Altheimer left an estate valued at about $1 million, his will dividing interest in property equally between the foundation and the testamentary trust.

Profits Are Picking Up Some Speed

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Profits are picking up speed in their six-month climb from their recession low. The bulls hope this foretells a profit explosion.

The bears think the gains will fall short of that. But early returns on the third quarter, now starting to flow in, show average net income after taxes running ahead of the year-ago figure for the first time this year.

Stock traders will watch the profit trend closely, since it reflects both the extent of the business recovery and the success of management in coping with rising costs and with squeezes on profit margins.

The first half of the year, despite a good pickup between the second quarter and the first, showed earnings still trailing 1960.

But early returns for the first nine months indicate that profits should pull even with the year-ago figure. This gives the whole of 1961 a good chance to top the 1960 returns.

The early returns so far are almost exclusively from corporations whose fiscal year ends before the calendar one. Thus the nine months results go back a month or so into 1960 and cover more recession time than will those firms using the calendar year. The recession low commonly is put at March.

But the nonconformists also report a third quarter that doesn't include September when business as a whole usually picks up.

Third quarter returns of 74 corporations reporting so far show 50 of them doing better this year than in the summer months of 1960. Four operated in the red this year, against six a year ago. As a group the 74 report profits of $138,556,000, compared with $126,760,000 for the same companies a year ago or a gain of 9.3 per cent.

These figures exclude the three months report by giant American Telephone & Telegraph. Add these in and you have 75 companies, with total profits of $470,598,000 against $444,739,000 but the percentage falls to 5.3, since the Bell System was doing a lot better a year ago than were many of the other 74.

Among the other gainers in the third quarter this year were department stores office equipment farm equipment and some machinery and tool companies.

The third quarter gains over last year stand out against second quarter results, which still trailed 1960 by 2 per cent, and the first quarter returns, which ran 20 per cent behind the previous year.

Fewer corporations have reported so far on their first nine months. A.T.&T. is among the missing. But of the 52 which have, 29 trail the year-ago figures, and five operated at a loss against three in the previous year. (The nine months results are from a largely different group than those reporting for the quarter.)

The 52 reporting at the three-quarter mark of their fiscal year show net income as a group of $188,578,000, compared with $177,560,000 in the like 1960 period. The gain is 6.2 per cent.

In the first half of the year profits were trailing 1960 by 12 per cent a better second quarter unable to offset the big drop in the first three months of 1961.

The first nine months of 1960 had trailed 1959 returns by 2 per cent.

The scattering of early returns to date is far from the last word on the profit trend, which won't be available for some weeks. But the steady climb from the first quarter low point strengthens the hopes of those who expect earnings to go on increasing in spite of rising costs in many industries.

Peacemakers Picket Kremlin

MOSCOW (AP)—American and European peace marchers paraded before the Kremlin today demanding disarmament and banning of the nuclear bomb.

The 29 marchers, who had come on foot and by bus across America, Europe and western Russia, walked into Red Square at 2 p.m. the place was almost empty.

Police had put up barriers around the square apparently expecting a big crowd but so few came that the police pulled away the barriers and let the crowd march into the square. It never exceeded 300.

It was the first time a band of Western marchers had ever made their way into the Soviet Union under such circumstances.

In Red Square they seemed uncertain what to do. Police forbade them to speak. They had planned to hold peace meetings in the square as they had done in dozens of cities and villages across Europe and in the Soviet Union. Instead, they passed out handbills to everyone in the square who would take them. Most Soviet grabbed at them eagerly.

SEVEN LIES SOUTH

by WILLIAM P. McGUIRE

THE STORY: Mike Beecher, a young American living in Spain, attends a party given by Don Willie, a former Nazi officer. Beecher has "scared" Laura Meadows, an American tourist, to the party.

Chapter IV

The fireworks started with a roar: an explosion sounded, and a whistling, jet-stream of sound streaked toward the sky. For an instant an expectant silence held the crowd; then a brilliant red and yellow pin-wheel flew apart high against the darkness, and there were screams and cries of excitement and approval as the embers flared brilliantly, and died in the night.

Don Willie was in charge of the preparations, shouting orders to his servants, and clapping his hands like an excited child. He was assisted by his pilot, Bruno Hoffman. Bruno was an irritable, taciturn man in his middle forties, whose customary expression was that of someone who had just encountered a disagreeable odor. Not much was known of his background, except that he had been a pilot in the Luftwaffe and had joined Don Willie in Spain at the end of the war. Beecher had chatted with him several times in the village. Don Willie's personal plane was a modified B-26, which was still "hotter" than most of the military aircraft in Europe.

A slender Frenchman ran from the crowd to join the dancers. With his back arched and fingers snapping, he capered about clumsily but happily.

"What's this?" Laura asked Beecher. "Is he part of the act?"

"No, just the inevitable amateur."

"Do the gypsies mind?"

"They're used to it. But Don Willie won't like it."

The Frenchman's name was Maurice. He had been around the village for a week or so. Beecher had seen him in the bars and cafes, usually alone, and usually drunk.

As Beecher had guessed, Don Willie wasn't amused by the Frenchman. He strode onto the terrace, took Maurice by the arm, and led him firmly and forcefully away from the gypsy dancers.

Don Willie was controlling his anger with an effort, Beecher saw; he was smiling apologetically at his guests, but his big beefy face was hot and flushed with irritation.

He finally deposited Maurice on the edge of the terrace near Laura and Beecher.

"I am sorry, I have had much to drink," he said, in a voice which was probably precise in sober moments, but now was thickened with alcohol.

"That's all right," Laura said smiling. "I enjoyed it. I thought you were pretty good."

"You are Americans?" Maurice seemed to have got control of himself; there was a suggestion of mockery in the twist of his lips. "I can always tell Americans," he said, and put a hand lightly on Beecher's shoulder.

"You are always spectators. You are well-groomed and happy as you watch others make fools of themselves."

Beecher sensed the hostility in his tone and manner. He smiled and said, "We usually get blamed for just the opposite. Being too loud and vulgar and so forth."

"Yes, yes, you fool people. You are clever. The loudness, the vulgarity, that is there, plain to hear and see. But you are cautious really. Always letting others do the things that are dangerous."

"You make us sound pretty

Statements Makes Ladies Nervous

By BUD SPRUNGER
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—Gentlemen: Do department store statements make your wife nervous?

Does she hide them from you until pay day?

Does she try to disappear while you figure them out?

Does she point to a figure nervously and say: "Cross off that $17.60. I took those gloves back. And they were very nice about it."

Does she think the beginning and end of paying bills is a 10-minute bawling out from you, to be forgotten immediately?

Buster, we are in the same league.

And it is worse than you think. Worse than at least one large New York store realizes. The store thinks it owes me around $300. It said so right on the last statement.

That was the great awakening. You and I and that store all know that no department store ever owes any husband.

Going on that premise, I conducted a full-scale investigation and learned that my wife doesn't understand what the bill says. She doesn't know that a store can mark down on one bill what we owe (black ink) and what I have paid or what she has returned (red ink). It was just so many numbers to her—and she blamed her high school math teacher.

Your wife probably has the same failing. And I'd advise you scheming," Laura said. Beecher saw that she didn't sense the Frenchman's hostility.

"Will you excuse us, please?" he said. "We're going in for a drink." He took Laura's arm and started to turn, but the Frenchman's fingers tightened suddenly on his shoulder.

"Take your hand off my shoulder," Beecher said coldly.

The Frenchman was boiling with emotions. "Do not threaten me, my American friend. I am very quick and strong."

Beecher slapped his hand down. The Frenchman swung at him then, impotently and wildly. Beecher caught his wrist, twisted it sharply, and then trapped the Frenchman's free arm with his other hand.

Their scuffle lasted only a few seconds; there was no fight in the man, no strength in his body. He sagged against Beecher, gasping for breath.

Don Willie hurried across the terrace and helped Beecher carry him down the steps into the garden. It was all over so fast that the guests standing nearby had no notion of what happened.

The Frenchman smiled drunkenly at Don Willie. "It was a joke," he hung his head like a child expecting punishment. "We play at judo. I have drunk too much. I am sorry."

Beecher let him go, and Maurice straightened his coat and bowed carefully to Laura. "I must apologize," he said. "I am not . . ." He frowned, searching for words. Then he sighed as if the effort were to much for him. "You will excuse me, please." He walked slowly up the terrace steps and disappeared into the crowd.

not to teach her differently. Take my case. We bought a couch and not wanting to get into our usual troubles with so much money involved I left a check, telling my charmer to give it to the man who delivered the couch.

The store, sinking in a quicksand of slips left behind by these ladies when they return gloves, etc., credited me with the amount of the check (red ink) but forgot to charge me for the sofa (black ink). That left me way ahead.

The mistake was explaining to her the difference between red ink and black ink. Now she figures out red ink very well and is delighted. She intends to spend her balance (it has ceased to be "our" balance) forthwith.

Probably the best thing would be to lock her up when I come to work.

Envoy Returns

MOSCOW (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson today was called to Washington in connection with the Berlin and German questions and other East-West problems. He will leave Thursday.

Search for Paradise Is Over

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Led Birkkrant's search for paradise is over, but his life will never be quite the same.

This is a sequel to the dispatch I wrote from Tahiti last February about the North Hollywood orthodontist who chucked a good-paying job to try life in the South Seas.

Lee is back in civilization, once again peering into little mouths and straightening teeth.

"I've changed, though," he remarked. "Tahiti taught me one lesson, a big one. Down there I learned to live simply. All you need is a place to sleep, food to eat—raw fish included and good friends."

Last year Lee left his $1200-a-month job to pursue the dream that every American male has of Tahiti. He had studied or worked all his life, and at 27 he was unmarried.

At first he had the usual tourist's reaction to Tahiti: He was dazzled by the scenery and the girls. Then he was depressed by the strangeness of the surroundings. But then he was accepted by the Tahitians and he accepted their philosophy of "Ra pea pea"—if doesn't matter.

Lee managed to support himself by working for the "Mutiny on the Bounty" company. One production aide said he saved the studio $30,000 one day by quick work on the teeth of Marlon Brando's native leading lady, Tarita, when she was needed for a close-up.

Despite his fondness for Tahitian life, Lee admitted he was ready to leave before the end of the seven month period foreigners are allowed to stay. Why?

"Because I had been spoiled by civilization," he said with some regret. "The life is great for the first few months. But then you feel the need for some intellectual stimulus."

"You can't find it in Tahiti. I suppose there are some books

Five of Group Arrive Home

NEW YORK (AP)—Five of 100 Irish American tourists who were stranded at Shannon Airport in Ireland because of a delay in a charter flight arrived today on a regularly scheduled airliner.

They were Mrs. Norman Fitzsimons, Mrs. Franklin Park, III, her children, Norman 2 and Patricia Anne, 5 months; her mother-in-law Mrs. Margaret Fitzsimons, of Park Ridge, Ill., and Edward Salmon, Chicago.

Tired but happy on their arrival at Idlewild Airport they hurried from the terminal to catch a plane for Chicago.

"The United States never there, but I never felt like reading."

Now Lee is back and practicing in Beverly Hills, using a new method of straightening teeth without hands. Remembering his Tahiti lesson, he will work only part-time and only long enough to earn some money to travel again.

Would he go back to Tahiti? "Certainly," he said.

looked so good to me," said Mrs. Margaret Fitzsimons. Salmon said he was due to return to his job as a drug clerk Monday, but that his family had advised his employer about the delay.

"We got tired of waiting," he said. "We went back and forth between Limerick and the airport."

We didn't mind the first day, but then we were told each day that the plane would leave the next day, and we had enough."

Rich in rice, fish, tropical fruits and other foods, the 200,000 people of Thailand enjoy the highest standard of living in Southeast Asia.
